

Scatter diagram

This scatter diagram (or scatterplot) shows the relationship between a sample of points on housing prices (vertical axis) and the square footage of the house (horizontal axis).

The cloud of points shows that there is a positive relationship between price and square footage indicated by the fact that the larger the house the more expensive it is.

